

Prey sets record in McQuaid race

Class A unseeded field in the meet's sixth race. Her time 18 minutes, 4.5 seconds gave her a convincing 55-second margin over Ann Belfield of Utica Notre Dame.

She then waited more than four hours at Genesee Valley Park to watch Prey, Section 5's premier track runner, set the girls' course record (16:49.2) and cruise to a 40-second victory over Denise Bushallow of Auburn.

They were Section 5's only individual winners in the nation's largest high school-sponsored meet — a six-hour blur of 3,500 runners in 20 races. Stretched end-to-end, their circuits of the three-mile course would traverse the continent three times.

Section 5 also collected its share of awards in team competition with Sodus (Class A unseeded girls) and Pittsford (Class B-3 boys) placing first and the host Knights barely missing the title in the prestigious boys' AAA to three-time champion St. Michael's of Toronto.

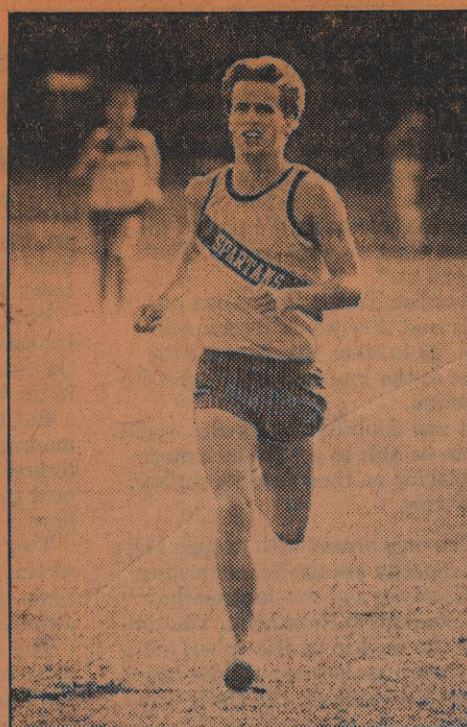

Despite grouping its five runners in the top 31 — including a 12th-place finish by Rob Smillie (15:29.6) — McQuaid couldn't overcome their Canadian rivals, 111-121.

"That's easily the best set of times we've ever run on this course," said McQuaid Coach Bob Bradley of the state's top-ranked boys' team.

"They held up well against Brighton (third at 130), Central Catholic (of Pittsburgh, Pa., fourth at 138) and Mt. Lebanon (Pennsylvania at 162). I think they fell back a little bit from where they were at the three-quarter-mile mark. But it was an excellent showing."

It also was an outstanding race for Williamsville North's Ron Markezich, who became the first runner to repeat in AAA. His time of 14:40 nudged 2.8 seconds off the 1980 course record by Marty Beauchamp of Tupper Lake.

It was a carbon of last year's race, when a mob of contenders winnowed to a handful by the two-mile mark. This year, Markezich trailed Paul Challen of Ancaster, Ontario (14:43.2), and Mike McGowan of St. Michael's (14:50) entering the final mile.

"I had the two Canadians in front of me, and I said, 'I'll let them beat me and I'll still be ranked No. 1 in the state.' Just then, I looked to the side, and saw a friend of mine, Kevin Byrd, a freshman at RIT.

"He yelled to me that I could take them, that the race was all mine," Markezich said. "He was in the right place at the right time. That's just what I needed to hear."

Markezich charged the last hill and opened a comfortable lead heading into the last 300 yards.

But his advantage at the tape was miniscule compared to Prey and Kisner.

Kisner had a 50-yard lead after she turned the first half-mile in 2:52. By the time she completed a mile in 5:56, only injury would have stopped her from the victory.

"I slowed up some at the end, but then I heard someone say that I could go under 18:00," the 14-year-old said. "I expected them to stay with me a lot longer, but nobody did. I probably could have run 20 seconds faster if I'd had competition."

Even that time would have been eclipsed by Prey, who knocked 21 seconds off the time posted by Brenda Steenhof of Milton, Ontario, in the earlier girls' A race.

"I don't think there is anybody who can run with me in the (Finger Lakes) league," Kisner said. "But I can't compete with Stacy. She's in a class by herself."

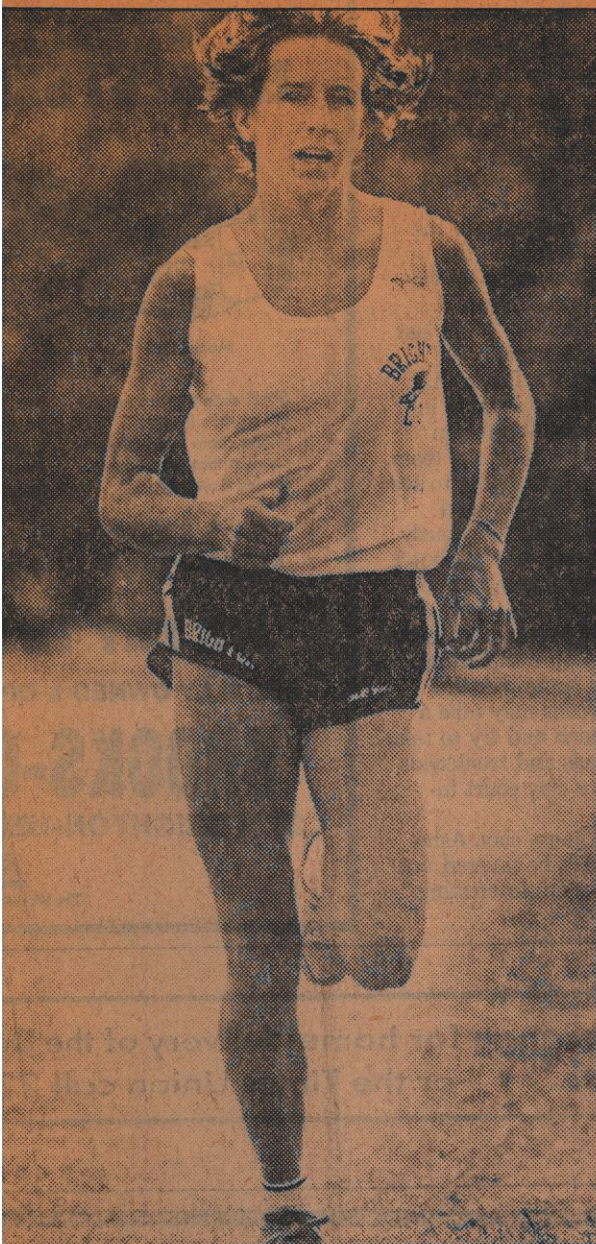

Prey proved Kisner correct in the last girls' varsity race of the day. Although caught in the middle of the pack when it bunched at the start, Prey patiently moved toward the lead after the first 400 yards. From there she was untouched.

"I think there was more competition in this race than in Newark," said Prey, who opened her cross country career with a victory in last week's invitation.

An injury almost stopped Prey from her victory. Three weeks ago she feared problems with her left knee almost terminated her rookie season. A tendon injury had tipped her kneecap outward, forcing her to apply heat before workouts and ice afterward.

Prey was joined in the top 10 by teammate Jody Dushay (eighth, 18:08.5) as the Barons, ranked fourth in the state, came within one point of shocking No. 1 Baldwinville, 69-70.

"I think it's better this way, that we didn't beat them," Prey said. "Now we know what we have to do in the states. Now they know we're right on their heels."
