

Section 5 champs turn up heat

Perhaps prophetically, in between her hurdles race and the one run by Batten, Darling said that will be the event she'll concentrate on Saturday in Brockport at the Meet of Champions, an elimination for the state meet.

One of the people she can expect to see at that meet is Scott Knapp of Victor.

As he watched Paterson kick to victory in the 3,200, Knapp had a thought.

"I'd rather be in the hot stuff," Knapp said after winning the Class A 3,200 in 9:47. "I was hoping for (a time in) the high thirties, but I have other races, too."

One of those races was the 1,600, where Knapp finished fifth. In the 3,200, Knapp spent the first half of the race chasing the shirttail of Batavia's Dave Deadman. From there, he made his move.

"In the middle of the fifth lap," the senior recalled, "the pace was good, but I said, 'This is where I'll take it.'"

Deadman finished second. Knapp entered the meet nursing a minor injury to his left calf, but said it wasn't a factor.

"Before the race (the 3,200), I was ready, but when Mike Ackerman won the 110 hurdles (time of :15.6), that pumped me up."

It was fitting then that Knapp was inspired by a teammate, because Aquinas, the team the Blue Devils spent much of the day battling in the team competition, had teamwork, too. The Little Irish's Tim Kreuzer swept the boys' weight events in Class A.

Kreuzer had the help of Wayne Romano, who, as a senior last year, also swept the shot put and discus.

"My friend (Romano) helped me, relaxed me," Kreuzer said. "I did about 142 (feet in the discus) on the first throw and then fouled on the second. Wayne told me to get my arm up and he relaxed me." Kreuzer, a senior, responded with a throw of 158-11 on his third attempt, exceeding his previous season best by more than 16 feet.
